

2019 Mark L. Friedell, MD Award

FOR THE BEST PRE-MED OR MEDICAL STUDENT
OVERALL ABSTRACT AND ORAL PRESENTATION ON RESEARCH PROJECTS, CLINICAL AREAS OF INTEREST, AND CASE PRESENTATIONS

Sponsored by the FLORIDA VASCULAR FOUNDATION

ELIGIBILITY: Any current pre-med or medical student from one of the nine graduate programs across the state of Florida.

AWARD: An award of $500 for the best medical student overall abstract and oral presentation presented during the 2019 Scientific Sessions of the Florida Vascular Society to be held at the Diplomat Beach Resort, Hollywood, FL, April 25-28, 2019. The award recipient's abstract will be considered for publication in Annals of Vascular Surgery. The Florida Vascular Society Program Committee and guest faculty will judge the presentations.

PROGRAM SELECTION COMMITTEE: The Program Committee will review the Abstracts. The abstract must be submitted online at www.fvs.org/abstract.

ABSTRACT: The best abstract will be selected based upon originality and scientific merit. The content of the investigative work must represent original work in clinical research or basic investigation. The material must not have been published or presented at a national or regional meeting. It is acceptable to submit work that has been presented as a poster, provided it has not been published.

THE DEADLINE FOR RECEIPT OF ABSTRACTS IS DECEMBER 3, 2018

This award recognizes the contribution of pre-med and medical students in the state of Florida for their ongoing research projects, areas of clinical interest, and case presentations at the Florida Vascular Society Annual Scientific Sessions. We honor former Florida Vascular Society President, Mark L. Friedell, MD, by naming this award in his memory, in grateful appreciation for his many contributions and leadership of the Florida Vascular Society. This award has been made possible through generous contributions from the FLORIDA VASCULAR FOUNDATION.
